

The Barn Croft Bulletin

Dear Parents/Carers,

I hope you managed to watch the children on the BBC programme Politics London on Sunday. The children were fantastic!

Our dance project with DashDotDance is going really well - the children are really enjoying creating their performance dance.

All the displays are up around the school showcasing the children's work in Science Week. Over the next couple of weeks they will be working on displays for the Hall based upon their No Outsiders work to celebrate our diversity.

Can we remind you to keep a check on the weather at the moment - and send your child with a coat or suncream. We have had a lot of children with no jacket despite it raining. I have also reminded the children today to keep their hair tied up. This is for their safety but also we do have nits going around the school and loose hair is much easier for the little blighters to attach themselves to!

Have a great weekend!
